OHIO UNIVERSITY

nineteen hundred & liit, inc

This is Ohio University. A green campus all the year round, splattered occasionally during the winter with sweeping snow. Green and white, the colors of the school. And, almost always, rain, rain, rain. But whether the sun shines or not, the chimes from Cutler Tower always remind you that this is a place of learning where all our yesterdays are taken into account today that there might be a better tomorrow. Then, once a year, the college songs from the Tower give way to the good cheer of Christmas and the evenings are filled with carols sung by hundreds of soft, sweet voices. The chimes are augmented by the song of spring when the flowers bloom, the trees turn green once more and the campus green is filled with students enjoying the warmth of the sun. Finally, the year ends and the graduates depart to take their places in the world.

Lilting Memories

Music set the mood on the campus this year: serious, soft, lively, melodious, inspiring. George Shearing, Woody Herman, Fred Waring, the glee clubs, the choirs, the orchestras, the dances. Jazz, symphonies, marches, spirituals, carols, concertos, you name it. And the music of yesterday, today and tomorrow, summed up in the Musical Omnibus, which featured songs from "The Green Adventure," the Civil War times, the Gay Nineties and the two world wars.

THE END OF THE SESQUI

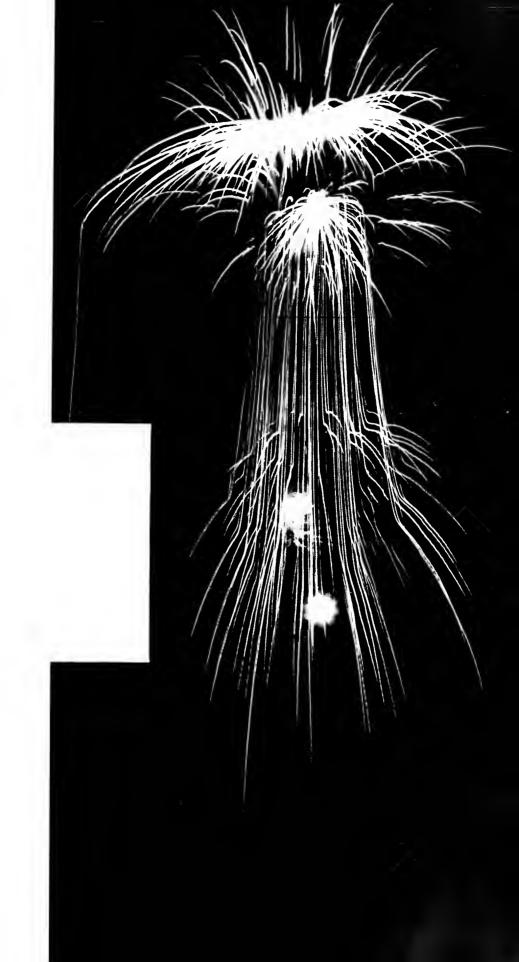

Paying a tribute to the men who founded Ohio University in 1804, the sesquicentennial celebrations drew to a close with the biggest events ever. During Homecoming, there was the final staging of "The Green Adventure," o play written especially for the sesquicentennial by novelist Charles Allen Smart, and a fireworks display, IFC and Pan-Hel sponsored the Woody Herman concert, with the proceeds of the show going to the alumni Sesquicentennial Scholarship Fund. Even Woody Herman himself contributed a part of his takings toward the Fund. Even as early as foll, the Fund itself had more than doubled its original goal of $150,000. The last of the four official observances of the sesquicentennial was the Conference on Higher Education. It was attended by over 200 educators from 130 institutions who discussed problems that will face colleges and universities in Ohio and the U.S. during the next 10 or 15 years. The main feature of the Conference was a convocation with Horold E. Stassen, Foreign Operotion Administrative director, speaking on "Education and Freedom." With the sesquicentennial celebrations over, Ohio University entered its 151st year.

FACING YESTERDAY.

Behind Memarial Auditarium is a sundial, marking the place where the first building stood at Ohio University. It was the Academy Building. The aldest building on the campus, however, is Cutler Hall, built in 1816. Then, with the succeeding years, other buildings were added. McGuffey Hall, Wilson Hall, the Library, Memorial Auditorium. While these buildings still exist, the men who built them are gone. Only their names remain, great men whose ambitions, tail and sweat were for the coming generations who want to learn. Their history is written into what the campus is today, their efforts will serve those who are still to come tomorrow.

The old faces the new. Across the campus Cutler Hall smiles briefly and knows the passing of time and custams. The buildings around Cutler silently serve the ideals of learning. Silent footfalls of the past echo in their halls. These footfalls are not heard in the latest buildings—the Ohio University Center and the new dormitories. For they speak only of the present. They were added to this campus today and will take their place with the others to serve those who come tomorrow.

. . FACING TOMORROW

Although Ohio University's long-range building program is still in its infancy, it has already brought to the campus a new, rejuvenated appearance. Typical examples of the Ohio University of tomorrow are Voigt Hall and the recently campleted men's dormitories on East Green. The men living on the green will carry away from graduation nostalgic memories of being awakened at seven in the marning by the sound of a bulldozer warming up for the day's activity, demolishing the old temporary housing structures. Gradually, Bush, Biddle, Perkins, Read, and Voigt rose slowly out of the depths of the campus to stand finally as classic symbols of a grawing, prosperous university. And more and more building are appearing Yesterday, today or tomorrow, the snow will continue to come, softly, silently, secretly, bringing with it a beautiful white world. Then, slowly, the snows would melt and new life would appear . . . ond the worm sun and green grass.

And then there are classes

Work! Wark! Work! Learn! Learn! When everything piles up and we have 48 hours work and just 24 hours in which to do it, these words may describe student life. There are class assignments to complete, chapters to be read, drawings to be made, speeches to prepare, words to be learned, themes to be written, papers to be prepared, theses to be completed. And yet the assignments continue to pour in.

Multiply 5000 students by an average of three hours of work per day and you have the time extent of two years encompassed in a single day.

Multiply 5000 students by at least one page written per week and you have 20 average sized books completed. The paper, the ink, the pencils utilized run into thousands of dollars. The effort, the thinking and the learning cannot be measured.

But, and it's a big BUT, there is more to the description than this. Lulls do come (and if they don't come, the students make them!) so that they can enjay the fun that is so much a part of college life.

"Just a few words regarding final examination, it will cover pages 222 to 999."

"If you know the moterial covered on those pages you should have no trouble."

"You mean to say you read that in our lest?"

Far ten years, John C. Baker has been president of Ohio University. During that time and due to his efforts, the University has risen in prominence, the campus has expanded, the enrollment has increased and more scholarships are available for the students in need. Fifteen new buildings have been added to the campus as a result of the extensive building program which he has promoted during his administration. Yet, he finds time to become acquainted with students and faculty alike. Occasionally, you will find him taking his usual evening walk and he will stop at a dormitory or at the Center to talk with students.

He has contributed to learning in more ways than one. Last summer, he was a delegate to the UNESCO conference in Switzerland. Apart from this, he takes active part in many phases of higher learning.

But close to his heart is Ohio University and its purpose in equipping the citizens of tomarrow. "What interests me most," he said, "are the students and the people who support this University and continually work far its betterment."

MINDS THAT GUIDE

H. E. Benz Deon of Education

These are the men who guide the students during their stay at Ohia University. With the help of counselars and advisers, they guide the students in preparing their program of studies and assisting them in the academic phase of their college lives.

Rush Elliott Dean of Arts and Sciences

Maige B. Paullen Dean of University College

"Hello there," has become the trade mark of Ohio University's Dean of Men. Dean Maurel Hunkins, who is in his eighth year as dean of men, never misses a chance to greet students. His cheery words, pleasing smiles and personal nod of the head often makes a freshman forget his homesickness for a while, ease the worry of a coming exam for a sophomore, erase the problem of a junior or make a senior a little more proud that he is a student at Ohio University.

Few students today know that the Deon, upon his arrival at OU as Dean of Men, also coached the tennis team ond won several summer tennis tournaments. He was also member of the violin section of the symphony orchestra.

MINDS THAT HELP

Joseph H. Dando Assistant Dean of Men

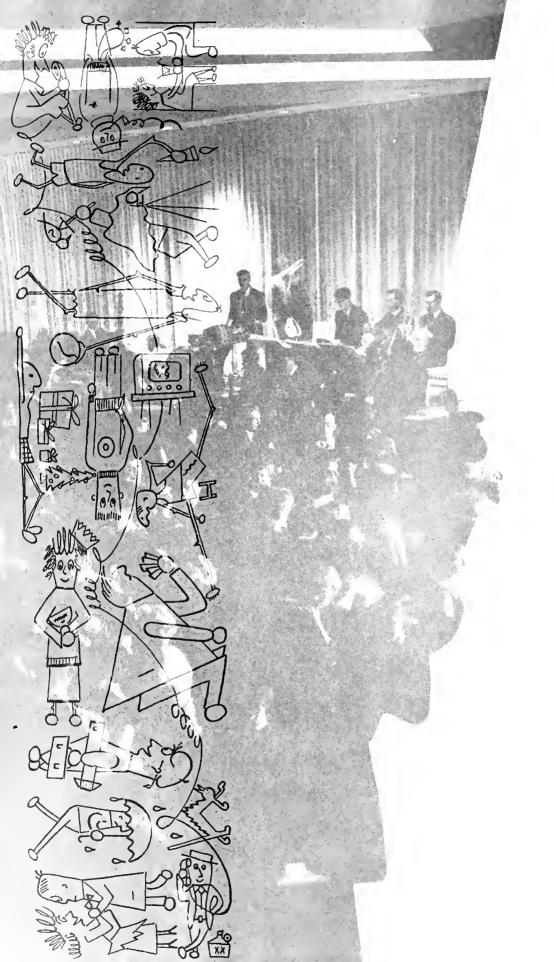

Greeting with a worm smile all who visit her office an the second floar of McGuffey Hall, Dean Margaret Deppen characterizes the friendliness of the Ohio University administration. Despite her full schedule of business and social activities, Miss Deppen welcomes any apportunity to become acquainted with the students, whether it be at Women's League functions, dinner in the girls' dorms, or a casual visit in her office. In Miss Deppen may be found a sympathetic friend to whom students can bring their problems.

Naturally, Miss Deppen's primary interests center around the college and its students. But she also enjoys golf on the new OU course, as well as reading or playing bridge.

DAYTIME

ND PLAYTIME . . .

Dying-summer hot, early-autumn days when the streets and walks are boiling over with flailing limbs of many persons, and school begins again to rush along the hurdled path to June.

Freshmon Week takes a tentative, apprehensive step and crescendos toward the Registration Hap when the dancers meet each other for the first time.

Couples wade hand-in-hand through puddles of fallen, pastel leaves, smiling. The whole world shouts of the parade of flowered floats. The parties and then the next day . . . ah, well.

Concerts, shows, sesquicentennial celebrations; and then it is Thanksgiving, and thanks are given.

The season slips into an ermine jerkin, and the Green is decorated as if it were a large Christmas tree. Christmas, New Year's Eve.

Back to the boaks with memories of cherry-sparkled yule logs. Exams . . . boaks are bought and sold because another semester is here.

A torch flaming against a grey weather and Greek Week livens things up again.

Nature yawns and wakes with a luxuriant gesture. And so does the J-Prom spirit.

The lake becomes papular again. Studying and strolling on the green, down at the field and across the river. Sure, Spring.

It is more difficult to cram for exams this time, but it must be done. There is a lot of rain now. Violets among the Hocking are drowned.

June announces heated approach of summer, bringing with it groduation among other things . . . and the Seniors stroll into the sunrise.

TIME OUT FROM STUDYING...FOR RELAXATION

A SESQUICENTENNIAL HOMECOMING

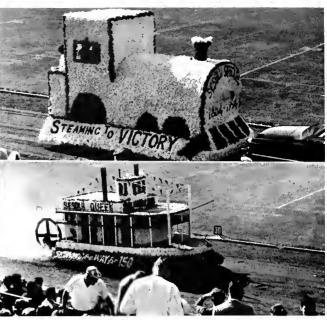

This year it was a Sesquicentennial Homecoming, with a record alumni attendance and added attractions. Fireworks blazed the dark sky with outlines of Cutler Tower, founders Putnam and Cutler, an interlocking OU, a block 150 with elm leaves, and a football with images of the Ohio Bobcats and Miami Redskins. The Redskins won the football game. But then there were other events to liven up the spirits. This year there were two Homecoming dances: one at the Center and the other at the Men's Gym. The fireworks, the floats (two parades, one in the morning and the other at the stadium), the awards, the queens and the alumni (friends and strangers) made this a Homecoming that will not be forgotten for a very, very long time to come.

SPECIAL EDITION! EXTRA! EXTRA!

The newsboys' cries echoed in the form of music at the onnual Newspaper Ball, the first big dance of Ohio University's social year. Sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional men's journalism fraternity, the Ball introduced a new campus band, "The Ohioans." The music was good, the night warm but the ballroom airconditioned and the special edition become a special night in the lives of many of the couples to be long remembered, thanks to the efforts of Ralph Brem who made the dance a success.

MIGRATION DAY

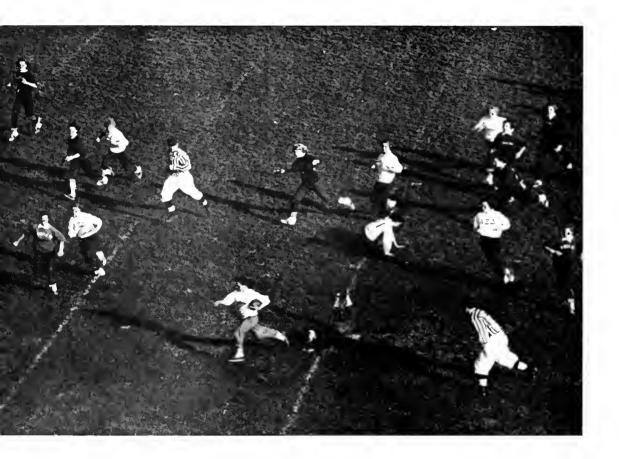

More than 500 OU students sat in the stadium at Clarke Field, Western Reserve, an October 9, beating off the chilling gusts of wind as they cheered their team to a 37-0 win over the Red Cats.

As the finol gun ended the battle, Bobcats dashed from the field, victorious smiles on their faces for the foithful five hundred who had migrated from Athens for the onnual trek after the team. Some held up three fingers, signifying the Bobcots' third straight win while others shouted, "One more week over Kent!"

Coach Widdoes, however, stood by his guns, reminding the team, "Let's play 'em one at a time."

POWDER BOWL

"We won! We won!" This was the cry at the Alpha Xi Delta house after the Powder Bowl game as the Fuzzies achieved a long stonding goal and sent the Pi Beta Phi team down to defeat, 7-0. The game, which received national coverage by a newsreel and Sports Illustrated, netted $700 for the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. A record crowd of 1650 saw senior halfback Barbi Watson dosh 35 yards around left end for the Alpha Xi touchdown. A pass by Dietz Dengler was complete for the extra point. This year's game saw the first Powder Bowl score since 1951. The record now stands at twa wins for the Pi Phis and one for the Alpha Xis. Five games have ended in a tie.

THE PRESIDENT'S BALL

The first annual President's Ball was held this year, and its introduction to campus activities meant an added institution at OU.

Sponsored by the four presidents of the academic classes, the dance featured unique decorations of the Center, which was open to those attending the dance, with all facilities in use. Gay costumes and two bands added to the attraction of the dance, and prizes were awarded to two couples for original attire (pictured here).

Miss Sidney Overman was selected by a special committee to rule over the ball and was presented at intermission.

Proceeds from sales of tickets were donated to the Campus Chest Fund.

OHIO UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Producing both camedy and tragedy, the OU Theatre affered a well-balanced selection of plays this year.

Beginning on a light note with F. Hugh Herbert's comedy hit, "The Moon Is Blue," the seasan progressed into "I Remember Mama," which brought Broadway star Blanche Yurka to Athens for the lead role. An all-encompassing pall of tragedy descended on the theatre with Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" and "Joan of Lorraine," written by the highly regarded Maxwell Anderson.

Performance of "Death of a Salesman" this year brought to OU theatre-goers an excellent example of modern tragedy.

The plot packed an emotional impact heightened by outstanding perfarmances by collegiate players.

Memorable performances by Agnes Tharnton and Ray Bedwell were matched by those of Lou Spiegal and Bob Bush.

Unique sets by Cosmo Catalano contributed much to the overall effect af the drama.

Mama and Papa listen as Nels tells of Katrin's sacrifice.

A rare treat was in store for theatre goers when the University Theatre brought Broadway star Blanche Yurka here to play the lead role in "I Remember Mama." She made Mama come alive. The rest of the cast gave her excellent support with Pat Linker, Dan Chichester, Don Christensen, Alice Carpenter, and Jim Sullivan giving stand-out performances.

Comedy at its best was brought to the campus with the production of "The Moon Is Blue." Freshman Pat Coleman made a very successful bid for stardom in the rale of Patty O'Neill. Plaudits were also due Bill Brady and Bill Renn. Sparkling dialogue rather than an intricate plot kept the audience interest.

Patty gets some "fatherly" advice from David Slater.

The ane night of the year when fellas are escorted by their girls is the night of Coed Prom, sponsored by Wamen's League. This year's donce, featuring a theme of "Keys to the Kingdom," introduced a new highlight: the crowning of a king, elected from a number of candidates by the girls attending the affair.

Prizes were owarded for the best "carsages" created by the girls for their dates.

Gentlemen resumed their duties as escorts at the hour of midnight.

"Penny-a-minute" was another event af the evening, when thase who wished to stoy out until after the curfew paid ane cent for each sixty secands over the time limit.

A host of other features make the station even more valuable to the campus. Besides broadcasting panel shows, music, news, and drama throughout the day, the station provides valuable an-the-job experience for radio and radio-news majors.

Many omusing incidents are created when signals are confused, bewildering the audience in the process.

"Oh, my gosh! We've got another notice from CAC!"

Another minor crisis is in the air at the Post. There's always something in the air: wads of copy paper as a sweating news reporter attempts to write up the latest meeting of Student Cauncil, a student directory which was taken from the sports desk by mistoke and is now tossed back ... almast anything not nailed dawn.

The electric atmosphere of a newspaper office affects peaple, especially on the nights before each issue cames out, when editors and hardy writers stay up all hours until the last bit of copy has left the typewriters.

Caoperation is perhaps the most important requirement for any student interested in working on the Post. For it is only through coaperation that a full coverage of news, sports, and organizational beats can be achieved.

THIS IS SPORTS: The white helmets bobbing above the blue-gross gridiron, the cleats digging and twisting, spitting an angry venom of mud, and the aganized rottle of the gear as bodies collide chosing a slippery pigskin.

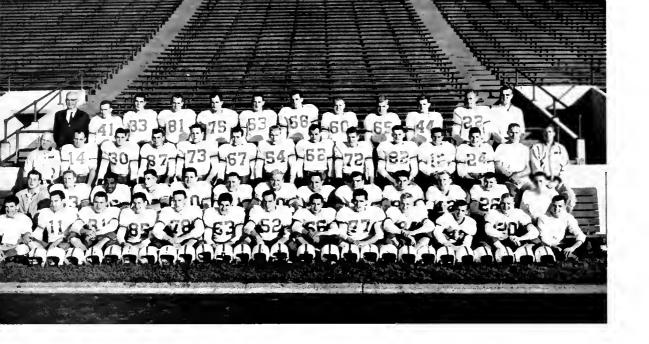

Then the multi-hued leaf carpet is suffocated in a pillow of snow while the walls close in to reverbrate the rapid-fire dribbling and loud-silent swish of the net ond the screech of floor burns.

A rough schedule, plus the loss of some of lost year's valuable players, were two obstacles facing Coach Carroll C. Through the use of team spirit, cooperation, and guts, the winminded group pulled down the curtain on another successful campaign with an overall mark of 6 wins and 3 losses. They landed in third place in the Conference with a 5 and 2 record.

Halfback Erland Ahlberg, who led the Conference in touchdowns, 10, received first team berths on both the All Mid-American and All Ohio teams. Get him . . . get him . . . get him . . and get him they did

Donning their green and white uniforms on September 25, the Bobcat gridders upset highly-favored Xavier University in a 12-0 home apener. After displaying a vigorous defensive game for three quarters, the O.U. charges tallied twice in the fourth quarter with Speedy Erland Ahlberg and End Jim Krager crassing the final stripe . . .

Moving along in fine style, the Babcat machine plowed under their first Mid American foe, Toledo University, by a 28-20 margin. This time Ahlberg galloped 88 yards an a touchdown run . . .

This fighting Bobcat went a little higher for an OU pass

Western Reserve was also caught in the Bobcat web as the Widdoesmen spun out a 37-0 triumph over the Red Cats. Twenty points in the final period assured the O.U. Migration Day fans of a victory. Al Christopher booted a 31 yard field gaal, one of the few longer kicks witnessed by local fans in the last few years . . .

Another OU gridiron cnemy prepares to bite the dust

Defenders of the Field

Just like "Ole Man River," the Green and White bearers kept rolling along. This time it was a 14-7 upset over Kent University, undefeated up to this tilt. With this fourth victory, dreams of another Conference crown appeared. These dreams faded away as a sprag was thrown into the Ohioan's revolving wheel when Miami shoved over a 46-13 score. This was the worst Homecoming Day defeat that Ohio University has ever suffered . . .

Everybody's purhing, but who has the ball?

Halfback Ahlberg netted 156 yards on the wet Harvard University field, but the Crimson overpowered OU, 27-13. The Bobcats sank deeper in their rut now as Western Michigan sneaked in a 19-6 lashing, making it three losses in a row for the Bobcat gridders, Saphomore Roger Thomas ran the pigskin 63 yards for the only tally . . .

It takes more than one to down a Bobcat

The lasing streak was snapped as Bowling Green fell pray to the Bobcats, 26-14. The men from Athens garnered 431 net yards, of which 170 were accredited to Ahlberg. Coming to life late in the game, Coach Widdoes' charges pushed over two winning touchdowns in the last period . . .

DAD'S DAY

King Football jumped down from its throne as the Bobcats "got that one for Pop" in the Dad's Day fray. The gridmen from O.U. provided their breadwinners with many exciting moments in their 26-25 win over Marshall. Ahlberg scored three six-pointers, one a 85 yard dash, in this nip and tuck contest. This was the last time that seniors Don Anderson, Joel Deckman, Bill Frederick, Ron Weaver, Ted Jackson, Chuck Karikas, John Schwab, Dick Spellmeyer, and Stan Moschino would take the field for Ohio U.

OU's secondary defense clamps down on this ball carrier

"The Team Named Desire"—that's what the 1954-55 OU cagers were called. With each of the first ten men carrying the team to victory on "his night," the Babcats rolled to a 16 won. five last recard, the best since 1941 and good for third place in the Mid-Am Canference. From the season apener, when the basketeers stunned a Marietta team that had won 21 cansecutive games, to the finale, when the cagers surprisingly proved that their first win over the Pianeers wasn't a fluke, the "Gee Whiz Kids" did the unprobable and the unpredictable. Despite a lack of height, the Babcats scored in the clutch, capping ten wins by margins of eight ar less paints. And it was a crowd-pleasing team with its urgent, fast-breaking style of play.

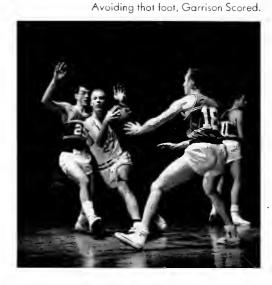

Starting the season off with wins over Marietta, 81-75. Morris Harvey, 88-81, and Ohio Wesleyan, 95-78, the Babcats fell before Marshall in their fourth game, 105-85. A five-game win streak, with victories over Western Reserve, 75-72 and 88-74. Layola of Chicaga, 72-70, Western Michigan, 97-84, and Kent State, 80-65, was snapped by a 79-69 loss to Taledo. The locals drapped a second game, to Bowling Green, 77-69, before they took games from Miami, 75-71, and Case Tech, 77-69.

SWIMMING

Guided by new coach Bob Bartels, the Ohio swimmers placed second to Bowling Green in the Mid-American Conference relays in their first competitive match. After dunking Ball State Teachers College, 49-35, the tankmen suffered their only dual meet loss, a 45-38 trouncing by Pittsburgh. Drenching Bowling Green 45-39, the mermen then broke a 15-meet winning streak in outstroking Kenyon 45-39. Before turning back Kent 52-32 in the season final, the local pool dwellers out-statisticked Miami, 451/2-381/2, and Ohio Wesleyan, 48-36, in succession. The Bobcats placed secand in the conference championship meet, trailing champion Miami's 110 total by 10 points. Two OU swimmers, Potter and Botuchis, placed high in the NCAA tourney.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Fram the record number of freshmen at OU last fall came the mast sparkling array of basketball talent that has campeted for OU in recent years. In racking up 11 wins and drapping four, the frosh last only ta powerful Lackbourne (twice), Marshall, and the Bliss varsity.

TENNIS

If the old competitive principle, "you play better when you play with the best," rates the backing it has, tennis should rise from the ranks of the little-known varsity sparts at OU. The team opened a tough schedule with Wisconsin, then went on to more opposition of the same caliber. Besides the schedule, this year's squad had a fulltime coach for the first time in Bab Bartels, boasted five seasaned veterans, and hosted the Mid-Am tourney.

Kneeling: Carl Hutchison, Al Ludlum, Paul Cowen; stonding: Dick Nellis, Bill Lagonegra, Roger Fenneman, Joe Saggio.

GOLF

Going into the spring campaign as Mid-American Champs, the Bobcat golfers blanked Marietta 27-0 in the opener and then dropped two of three matches in the South. Despite the two defeats, prospects were goad for another Mid-Am trophy. 1954's first five was back, bolstered by a promising group of undergraduates.

Like the galf team, the baseballers copped the Mid-American crown last spring. Handicopped by heavy spring rains in early spring practice, the Bobcats couldn't get hitting and pitching coordinated in the early part of the southern tour. However, veterans and rookies alike started blasting away as conference play opened.

BASEBALL

WRESTLING

Contrary to the unwritten caaching code. Coach Fred Schleicher predicted his "team to be reckoned with" as far back as 1953, And he was right. After grappling with three Big Ten teams, some of the country's most powerful squads, and the Mid-Am's toughest competition to date, the Bobcats proudly claimed a nine won, two lost record, the Mid-Am championship, and third rank in the international 40-team Four-I tourney. And the wrestlers will go into the 1955-56 season with a six-match win skein.

CHEERLEADERS

Who can gauge haw much higher a cager jumps, haw much harder a gridder runs, because of the organized clamor from the friendly crowd? Neither the fan, nor the caach, nor the player can determine that extra, intangible spark. But it is there, and it ranks high in the list of hame team advantages. To the player it is a continous, living source of faith and confidence. To the spectator it is a part of the carefree, relaxing color of sports.

The cheerleaders create the spark and fan it into a vaciferous, emotional flame. At its height, it engulfs the cheerleaders and the crawd, and even the scene, and yet it is a part of every person there. Somehow it gives the crowd unity and sets it apart from the rest of the world.

And even after the cheerleaders and the crawd have gane, their echoes linger on in the empty stands.

Four years is a ong time. There are a great many memories involved: some that will saon be forgotten, others that will linger on and on. A great dea of work went into those four years and now it is the end of that pursuit of knowledge and a beginning of a career.

One by one the friends begin to fade away as the long line decreases and each of them goes his own way. They go to take their places in the nation: places for which the University has equipped them. And who knows some day their paths will crass.

PAUSE IN A LIFETIME

For students, their childhood behind them and a long life ahead, college is a sojourn and for this pause in a lifetime is the home on the compus. For them the housing units promise an integration of differences and each day is the turning of a kaleidoscope, in many ways a new design of personalities, but always within the same frame.

There is the multitude seen during the day, but is gone at night, absorbed within shadowy recesses. Only on occosional light shines, in the lounges where there is no one or perhaps a group at a game of cards, the studious student sitting silently by and possibly some tired person who has gone to sleep while reading.

Some of the buildings are old and stand proudly in an aura of traditions. Others have been recently born and the after-birth of mud and wood scraps and bolts is strewn about. Many are large and resemble an anthill or a beehive of socialism. Others are small and, while less octive, enjoy a certain intimacy.

But large or small, old or new, housing units are ultimately mere mirrors or picture frames, the reflection or showcase of their occupants.

The boys from down under are coming up in the world!

East Green, often called by a number of aliases, finds brick dormitories replacing barracks, grass replacing mud and paved walks replacing paths in a $7,900,000 change.

Five new darms, including Bush, Biddle, Read, Jahnson, and Perkins Halls, were in use this year and three more, plus a cafeteria, were under construction.

The Green has not spent all its time in building, for all five housing units joined in an actual social program.

Although the Green has rapidly changed its appearance, the "over the hill" men still face the 111 steps up Union Street.

INTERDORM COUNCIL

In ony diverse crass-section of people, prablems and disagreements are bound to orise.

Interdormitory Council provides on ear for these problems—ond most aften, solutions.

Representatives to Council are afficers of each women's darmitory an campus, officers who return to their units to include all residents in the plans and activities of the group.

Members of Cauncil are also members of other important campus graups, and these organizations con contact dorm residents through this channel.

All is not business with the important core, for the annual Interdorm Formal is a large social function on the schedule.

HALL

It was early this year and the girl told her date, a treshman from Bryan Hall, that she had lived at Bryan the previous year. He saw that she was serious and he was stupefied. What he failed to realize was that the Bryan Hall men became the first group of male students ever to reside in a girl's dormitory. These students were lucky that they didn't have to climb the hill from East Green that they had an elevator in the building and bath tubs. The mirrors in the hallways served no purpase whatsoever except to see what was going behind you or, as has often happened, to find that the guy that was approaching you was your own reflection.

With frequent parties, a fall and a spring formal, and a float entry in the Homecoming Parade, among other activities, these men were quite active socially.

SCOTT QUADRANGLE

Girls have taken over Scott Quad!

Showing the faculty and administration just what the feminine touch had done to the massive housing unit used formerly by males, the residents held a tea last November, giving 350 guests an opportunity to inspect the dorm.

Christmas, 1954, will be long remembered by the girls of Scott the caroling, a formal dance, and a Christmas banquet by candlelight.

The theme of Scott Quad has been "You for Unity," and residents have worked together on projects and activities with this in mind.

One particular project is especially important—the Pat Kelly Scholarship, in memory of the late resident counselor.

HOWARD HALL

"Sally's Homecoming Queen!"

The feminine scream announcing the results of the contest filled the halls of Howard Hall, expressing the enthusiasm of the residents of this housing unit as one of their girls "hit the top."

Enthusiasm is perhaps a key word at Howard. The social undertokings—a Halloween porty, the Tavern Dance, "Little Sister Weekend"—all reflect the mood of the lighthearted girls housed in the brick building on the corner of College and Union.

LINDLEY HALL

Lindley is more than a worn hat rack to the girls who live in the "miniature palace of Court Street."

There are marks on the floor where others before them have walked, and the dorm's many traditions make life in such a unit more warthwhile. Marble Hall with its goadnight kisses, the winter formal, and the Cherry Pie Dance are just a few of the memorable and memory-evoking ports of dorm life, where girls of all races and creeds learn to live together in harmony.

Among the projects of the girls at Lindley this year was a fall banquet honoring Rev. Jacob Lindley, Ohio University's first president, for whom the dormitory was nomed. Lindley resident Betsy Rass presented a flag in memory of him.

BOYD HALL

The smallest dorm on compus is also the oldest dorm on campus, ond claims to have the best-fed girls on campus!

Housing oppraximately 100 women, Boyd takes part in same large-scale social activities. Occuring during the first heavy snowfall of winter, the formal dance following a theme of "Snowflake Fantasy" was apprapriately named. Earlier in the year, residents had enjoyed a Lake Hope auting, Maggie Bayd Day, a carnival, and the Pink Elephant Night Club, a first semester open house.

OHIO UNIVERSITY CENTER DORM

Above the maze of rec rooms, lounges, offices, and the never-ceasing buzz of student activity, is the Center Dorm. Here there are no regulated quiet hours. And it isn't because of the blaring TV, the playing of the piano in the lounge downstairs. The girls are aware of the need for quiet when studying.

The dorm has a home-like atmosphere. Everyone knows everyone else, the girls at the desk never ask the regular callers who they want.

In more ways than one, these girls are on the top. They belong to the top classes, the highest combined point average of the women's dormitories and they live on an upper story of the campus, it seems.

VOIGT HALL

Amid the roar of construction, girls moved into Ohio University's newest dorm in September. The construction of Voigt, which is named in honor of Irma Elizabeth Voigt, Dean of Wamen at Ohio University for almost 40 years, was begun less than a year after the dean's death in May 1953.

The calonial design of the building adds an air of grandeur to the already spacious campus. The 195 girls who live there find relaxation and enjoyment in the lounges which have been the final touch of beauty.

Activities of the dorm included Angel-Pixie Week, Dean Voigt Service Project Day, and the Winter Formal with the theme, "Rhapsody in Blue."

COLLEGE STREET COTTAGE

These are the little housing units, where the house is a home. There are either fourteen girls in one large room, or eighteen girls in a number of rooms. It is an experiment in community living in its truest form.

"Who's resident counselor here?" . . . "Well, we really don't hove a resident counselor. You see . . . Well, here she comes now." . . . A young woman who looks like the other residents walks in. She's the college proctor, on upperclass woman who steps into the role of housemother-confessor-and-best friend.

In the cottages there is experienced an intimacy and family-like otmosphere which is not possible in large dorms. And girls who have lived in one of OU's four small housing units consider their time there valuable to their college careers.

LEARNING AND PLAYING

One of the highest forms of society is to learn and play, to relax and absorb the lessons of life, at the some time. This is because life is both seriousness and laughter. And this is more so in the social life of a compus.

Organizations, with groups of faces bleached in candle or fluorescent light, always have keenly etched horizons with well-defined aims. There are the ones that must hurdle barriers as well as shatter them.

There are others where men sing, laugh, dream, construct, create and solve: groups with a common denominator, each fraction of the whole grasping a string of the same balanced rope. And always discussing big problems, the aesthetics with one foot in Bohemia.

Dancing or discussing, light or serious, similar minds communicate common ideas and solve common problems. The next dance, history, the coming generations, education, the other side of the world, fashion, food—the list is endless. And they will go on, though students will come and go, till the last of the voices echoes through the void.

CAMPUS AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

The CAC has a tremendous task to fulfill each year under the able guidance of Dean Margaret M. Deppen, it serves to supervise social groups, recognize new ones and approve budgets. It is also responsible for selecting staffs for the Athena and the OU Past and granting permission for special activities on campus. It is this arganization that plans summer recreational programs and approves faculty advisors.

Around their service the wheel of compus life revolves, guided by the strength of authoritative spokes.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A completely new Student Council ushered in the 1954-55 year at OU, with a fall reorganization which included certain innovations.

Student Council office hours, during which time students are asked to bring in questions and suggestions, were arranged to be held every afternoon. "Sound Off," a weekly radio show, is sponsored by Council for a discussion of compus problems.

Annual events under the supervision of the group are Political Week, Campus Chest Week, Mothers' Weekend and special convos.

MEN'S UNION PLANNING BOARD

The two big jobs of coordinating all men's activities on the campus and governing the male population at Ohio University falls on Men's Union Planning Board.

Two specific duties of the organization are the formation of the Men's Disciplinary Board and the newly organized student courts.

MUPB also backs many all-campus events in the 1954-55 year, events which included the Freshman Mixer, the Registration Hop, the Homecoming parade and queen election, Migration Day, the Leadership Banquet, and the Leaders' Canference.

The Foreign Students Loan Fund, providing emergency financial aid to the University's students from abroad, is directed by the planning board.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Flouting the traditional women's place in the home, Women's League members play an active role in student government. Dorm closing hours, proper dress and rules of canduct are decided an by them.

In addition, the League presents its annual recognition service in the spring. The autstanding leaders of every campus organization are honared at a special get-tagether.

For the first time this year, a king was selected to reign over Coed Prom, when it is the girl's turn to take over the date, including expenses.

BLUE KEY

Blue Key is a national service hanorary and its services are seen in more than ane phase of campus life. They usher at convocations, continually replace signs welcoming students to Ohio University ("They have been found to be missing accasionally," one member said), and decorate the campus during Christmas, adding a beautiful touch to the Green during the festivities.

They sponsor a Camic Field Day during Greek Week and the Inter-Fraternity Pledge Council dance. Blue Key also publishes the boaklet about fraternities that freshmen receive before coming to school.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambdo Delta, the freshmen women's honorary, congratulated all freshmen women who had above a 3.0 in hopes of encouraging them to strive for a 3.5 and thus be eligible for membership in the organization. Initiation of new members, collecting furniture for foreign students and a tea for scholarship students are the fraternity's main activities.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Freshman men in the know have realized that honoraries aren't just for upper classmen. Bids from Phi Eta Sigma are given to freshmen men with a 3.5 or obove. Only Phi Beta Kappa requires a higher point average. Men of Phi Eta Sigmo help with the annual Dean's List reception and promote scholarship in the freshman class.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi at Ohio University does things in a big way.

The local chapter had the largest undergraduate delegation at the professional journalism's national convention in Columbus last fall.

The annual Newspaper Ball, sponsored by the fraternity, was the first major event of the year.

Students can thank Sigma Delta Chi for the desk blotters printed with campus calendars which are distributed in registration lines, as well as for the Freshman handbooks which were given to 2200 first year students last fall.

Also a project of the fraternity was the Student Publications Clinic held early in second semester.

Prominent journalists speak at the meetings of the group, which was established at OU in 1930.

OU CENTER PLANNING BOARD

OHIO SOCIETY OF PROFESSIONAL ENGINEERS

When engineering students gather, you can make certain that the praduct of their activities will be planned, precise, and well-calculated, and these terms apprapriately describe the undertakings of the OU Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

Not wishing to limit their activities to social functions alone, such as the annual Engineers' Ball, the society learns through taking field trips to industrial centers and listening to reknawn engineers at their meetings.

An onnual open house far high school students in the spring is among the projects of the group, and delegates are sent to the yearly convention in Cincinnati.

Kappa Phi is a Notional organization which has farty chapters throughout the country; Phi chapter was founded at Ohio University in 1928.

Girls are pledged twice a year, and a Rose Teo is given in their honor. These girls send gifts to children in Koreo and aid a missianary in Pakiston.

SIGMA THETA EPSILON

In 1925, a group of men appreciated the need for a closer Christian fellowship among men of Methodist preference, and organized the national religious fraternity which is now known by the name, Sigmo Theta Epsilon. This group believes it can do much to stimulate the development of high moral standard among college men.

The motto of the fraternity, "We are workers together with God through the church", gives direction to their octivities.

Stonding: Georgia Thomsen, Chloe Waodard, Peggy Raub, Jim Dilley, Eula Emmons, Robert Emmons, Ernest Anderson, Grace Goodwin, Nancy Lovet Christine Welch.

HILLEL FOUNDATION

Under its new directorship and its new president, Hillel became increasingly active this year. Religious services, forums, faculty discussions, parties, and informal gatherings have been a part of its weekly agenda.

The newly instituted High-Holy Day services were one of its most important events. Other activities include publication of a small newspaper.

PHI CHI DELTA

This year was an especially memorable one for the girls of Phi Chi Delto, Presbyterion women's sorority, for they moved into their new meeting room at the Westminster House. Special parties and meetings were among their activities.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association stressed both the religious as well as the social aspect of life in their functions. The members enjoyed their fellowship which better prepared them for their days ofter college life.

Seated, (left to right): Shirley Potter, William Maloney, Ellie Rausch, Fred Yoder, Mary Gehring, Second raw, Wilda Heldman, Connie McClure, Delores Dey, William Staos, Marilee Greer, Clyde Zarkos, Janet Duke, Rass Paulson, President. Third row, Don Gregary, Bob Schmeding, Advisar; Dick Gardner, Jack Nemec, Bob Wendt.

NEWMAN CLUB

Nearly everyone on campus is familiar with one of the Newman Club functions: their big annual spaghetti dinner. Besides this one activity, these Catholic men and wamen held religious meetings, communion dinners, a Christmas Formal, and the Newman Club-Phi Kappa Retreat held in early spring.

The purpose of this organization is to provide intellectual, spiritual, moral and social development for its members.

Seated (left to right); Nicholas Neidich, Martin B. Perry, Arthur Vermillion, (President), William Gill, Barry Nauts, M. T. Vermillion, Burton W. DeVeau, P. Clarence Porker. Standing; Ken Evans, Chuck Evans, Oran Faris, Nelson Woodruff, Melvin Wells, Arthur Ross, Arthur Pallon, John Clark, Bill Robinette, Ben Fassett, Jahn Devol.

One of the services of the YMCA is the book exchange: the selling of books for students. The overall purpose of the Y is sought through a program of worship, study and action leading to a fuller realization of the Christian faith.

BAPTIST DISCIPLE STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

The Fellowship this year maintained not only an active religious schedule, but a well-rounded social and recreational program as well.

With Friday evenings devoted to socials, Sunday nights were usually devoted to religious meetings.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Compus activities are not the only ones in which members of the YWCA are interested, for their help projects reach many people less fortunate than themselves and show a small part of the warm spirit of the group. Children especially benefit from the YW's Christmas and spring clothing drives and the party for boys and girls of the Children's Home.

However, the organization assumes its place on compus with its onnual First Nighter Party for incoming freshman women, Prep Follies in the spring, and interesting ponel discussions throughout the year.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI

Kappa Kappa Psi, national music honorary, was formed to promote unity which would create a greater university band.

Members are chosen on the basis of their musical abilities.

PHI MU ALPHA

Presenting concerts in neighboring communities, co-sponsoring the American Music concert, and contributing to the musical instruments and lessons fund for Korean children, Phi Mu Alpha, musical service fraternity, increased music appreciation on both local and international levels.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

All Ohia State Day, when national and pravince afficers and representatives from ten Ohio Chapters af Sigma Alpha lata met in Athens, and an American Musicale, presented in conjunction with Phi Mu Alpha, were the highlights of Sigma Alpha lota this year. SAI is the women's music honorary.

The OU Chorus had a big session this year. In addition to the Christmas Conva and Spring Cancert—conducted by Dr. Dohnanyi—there was the President's Convo, the OEA State Meeting and the Special Sesquicentennial Convocation. The program was one which fulfilled in every sense the aim of the Chorus; the singing of good choral music.

OU CHORUS

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

There is a power in men's voices when the singing is in unison. This is specially so in the cose of the Men's Glee Club, whose voices the campus is familiar with. You hear them when you pass by the Music Hall ar when there is a cancert in Memorial Auditorium. Their vaices reached beyond the compus when they made their tour in addition to their regular concerts.

Under the directorship of Dr. Philip Peterson, another year-mark hos been added to the Club's career.

Miss Evangeline Merritt, director of the Women's Glee Club, has an apparently simple recipe she uses constantly. She takes a womon's sweet voice, adds another and yet onother; odding until she has the right blend. She puts them together with a dosh of "feeling" and of "spirit." And she gives the campus the Women's Glee Club.

These girls have won their way into the hearts of everyone who has heard them. But behind their singing is a wonderful activity in which students are brought tagether and learn to work with one another.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

OU SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The power of music is indeed great and these talented and hardworking members of the OU Symphony Orchestra endeavor to prove it in their semi onnual concerts. Highlighting the year for the group was the special program for Mothers' Weekend.

Dr. Ernst von Dohnanyi, noted composer, conductor, and pianist, returned to the compus to serve as guest conductor for the occasion.

The orchestro is under the baton of Deforest Ingerham and Karl Ahrendt.

OHIO UNIVERSITY BAND

The auditorium gradually became quiet as the applause died down and the man struck up the band. They played two marches composed by the man himself. He was Capt. Thomas F. Darcy, retired director of the U. S. Army Band.

This is one of the many phases in the life of the Ohio University Band. You first see the Band at the football game where they liven up the half-time, playing and making formations. They add zest to the pep rallies and play at basketball and other games. They perform at concerts both on the campus and on tour. And, as always, it is the leading figure who stands out and guides and coaches and conducts: Charles Minelli. The final tribute is his!

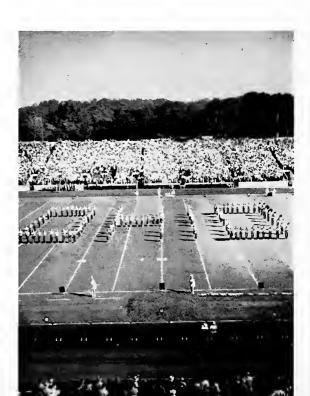

Charles Minelli (Advisar), Janet Miller (President), Edna Warman, Dorathy Minelli, Harriett Sapp, Nancy Pearce, Janis Davis, Helen Koehler, Dart Ruland, Barb Harding, Belinda Harding, Marilyn Kroft, Carole Frey, Billie Howe, Ruth Sands, Margie Chambers, Sarah Schramm

Once a year, all the high school bands in the vicinity march down the streets of Athens to the stadium. They vory in more ways than one: the different colors, costumes and formations. And the organization responsible for the High School Band Day is Tau Beto Sigma, national honorary bond sorority.

TAU BETA SIGMA

"Here comes the band!" Although we have heard these words again and again, there is still that lifting of the heart when we hear the music in the distance. And as the band approaches and the music gets louder we are lifted into a world away from everyday life, the world of music. The band passes and the crowd seems to tremble with the sounds of the drums and the blaring of the trumpets. And today, there is the added attraction when the members of the band smoothly glide into formations as they play. It is a great feeling to see and hear them.

BETA ALPHA PSI

Experience ond opportunity are valuable and Beta Alpha Psi, national accounting honorary, recognizes this fact. It provides its members with experience in speaking before groups and in writing and opportunity to meet, hear and talk with leaders in its fields. The most valuable opportunity is provided in field trips to various companies' accounting departments.

Management and lobor, the problems are numerous and the Society for the Advancement of Management endeavors to stress the keynote of efficiency through discussion, research and other means. The student is also introduced to practical management through plant tours and conferences.

Progress is essential in today's world. And among the people who recognize it are those whose occupation is farming. These are the members of Alpha Omega Upsilon: they will either play an essential role in tomorrow's world by producing food or are in some way interested in agriculture.

Their activities vary, though, and one of them is a floral business. They brighten up Homecoming by selling mums to Mom.

In addition, they are kept busy in the various phases of farm life at the University farm.

DELTA SIGMA PI

The history of the world is reflected in the history of Delta Sigma Pi, professional commerce fraternity. It began before the depression but had to assume an inactive status during the dire period. It was reinstated after the war. But this isn't the way that it promotes a closer affiliation between the commercial world and the students of commerce. Field trips are made to factories and other mercantile institutions, thus promoting understanding of their field of endeavor.

Once upon a time—when history began—a woman made a move to better her position. Ever since then women have done the same. This organization is one of them. "A service club organized to further the interests of women in the business world," is what they tell us when we asked for their purpose. But these secretaries of the future do it thoroughly. This year they visited the Farm Bureau offices in Columbus and had a Secretary-for-a-Day program.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

Members of the Arnold Air Society will tell you—and the story needs repeating—that the Squadron is named ofter John P. Robbins. You see, Robbins is the first known Ohio University officer to be killed in World War II.

They mointain liaison with the Civil Air Patrol and other defense-planning organizations. The Squadron is also Headquarters for the second area of the national society.

Among their activities is the co-sponsorship of the Military Ball.

Seoted: Poul G. McLoughlin (Areo Commander, Colonel), Jomes E. Hamer (Area Executive, Lieutenant Colonel). Stonding: William E. Stone (Areo Comptroller, Major), Jon Tiptan (Area P. I. O., Mojor), Jomes Maurer (Areo Adjutant, Mojor).

Donald W. Mansfield (Advicor) John Lancione (Executive Officer) Gerald Warren 'Commanding Officer).

COMMAND SQUADRON

Today men fly faster than sound. If you blink when a jet passes by, you're apt to miss seeing it. This in a way symbolizes progress in aviation. It is the most vital part of defense. Air Command Squadron realizes this and among the many activities in its program are trips to the Wright-Pattersan Air Force Base. It is one way in which it enables its members to keep up with new developments in aviation. Another way in which it does so is to invite prominent men in the field—the Civil Aeronautics Administration's District Representative and the Flight-Surgeon from Lockbourne AFB among others.

Lt. Richard Baker (P. I. O.), Lt. William Ulle 'Pledge Officer), Lt. Dudley Kircher (Supply Officer) Capt. Gerald Warren (Commanding Officer) Lt. Rick Schwalm (Operation: Officer) Lt. George Brehmer Personnel Officer) Lt. Thredore Eckert 'Aputant).

SCABBARD AND BLADE

Scabbard and Blade, Company A-8—sounds just like the military. And, as in all strategic departments, these men realize that coaperation is essential. The old legend of there being a feud between the Army and the Air Force fades into insignificance with these men. Both Army and Air ROTC students belong to this arganization.

Another phase of cooperation is faund in the fact that Scabbard and Blade jains with other military organizations in presenting the Military Ball.

PERSHING RIFLES

The Pershing Rifles have been known on the campus for their "fancy stepping," but little do people know that hours of drill practice in the very early hours of the marning, when all the town is asleep, accounts for this. Imagine getting up before the dawn and drilling in the morning mists.

Mary Gordon acted as co-ed sponsor for this crack drill team which also provides a color for the football games and takes an active part in the Military Ball.

Factories, hames, apartments, hotels—the list is endless which will really enumerate all the canstructions that will come about because of the efforts of these architects. One of their forms of encouragement is to exhibit the work of the best student from each class. Field trips and speakers are included in their program.

These are Scribes in more ways than one: they are not the peaple of yesteryeor when scribes sat at desks and capied mechanically; they are the scribes who will record events that make day-to-day history, whether it be headlines, the society page or a significant news-picture. And ane way they learn is to invite speakers to meetings.

SCRIBES

Members of Chi Rho Beta are frequently seen, but always heard. It is their voices that carry through the ether waves the happenings of the day or the entertainment that is ever welcome. They have been chosen because of their outstanding work in the radio field and their efforts play o vital part in the operation of the twin voices of Ohio University: WOUI and WOUI-AM.

If you ever see a person idly watching onother and that person tells you that he is working, don't be puzzled. It is probably a Psi Chi really at work. This organization consists of psychology majors who have been outstanding in their field and their purpose is, quite appropriately, the furtherance of the study of psychology. After a lapse, it has now been reorganized.

PSI CHI

The curtain rises and the play begins. What the audience sees is the finished product. Those additional details and effort that make the play what it is escapes them. The play had actually begun a long time before the audience sees it. And it is the Foatlighters who contribute these vital touches, behind stage and an stage: the lights, the sets, the make-up, the costumes. They are the service organization of the theatre and consist of people who have the warmth that show people are noted for.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS

For a few hours at a time, the world of reality is lost and the immediate world belongs to the people on the stage. They make you laugh and cry, dream and think, while they absorb you into a life they take part in creating. These are the members of the National Collegiate Players, the people who contributed toward making the Ohio University theatre one of the finest among the colleges in the country.

The Players are composed mostly of juniors and seniors who have fulfilled the prerequisite of spending their time on and off the stage and also of having a thorough knowledge of practically every phase of stage activities.

CAMERA CLUB

Whether the photographer says "Watch the birdie!" and snaps the shutter or remains unobtrusive while he gets some candid shots, he probably belongs to the Camera Club. The members are either interested in toking pictures or making photography a career.

Their program included displays, shows and contests. Students are familiar with many phases of this through their exhibitions and "Picture af the Week" displayed in the OU Center.

KAPPA ALPHA MU

A stary in "Sports Illustrated" on the Powder Bowl... a movie which was shown on television... a picture story in a national publication... these are not mere dreams, but dreams come true for some of the members of Kappa Alpha Mu, national photojournalism honorary.

These are the people who have been tops in photography. Some of them revel over the aesthetic appeal of a picture and others quietly take pictures which win for them admiration. But whatever their approach, their pictures have much more than quality in them. In fact, they are compiling a portfolio of outstanding photographs which will act os a recommendation and perhaps a bright future.

ORCHESIS

Swirling through the space, dancing their way into the hearts of thousands, members of Orchesis have made a name for themselves. The applause that these girls receive during the shows are echoed in the praises they receive while the audience walks home. They felt the thrills of show business and the long rehearsals on the details of chareography were well paid for when, in addition to their fall and spring concerts and southern Ohio high schools tour, they played a major part in the Sesquicentennial Omnibus Show.

DELTA PHI DELTA

In a great many instances, services to the campus are little known and not appreciated. One of these is the making of posters by members of Delta Phi Delta, national art honorary. These are done gratis for any arganization who can profit by them.

In addition to group discussions and speeches by faculty, Delta Phi Delta holds an annual exhibit of creative work done by its members.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

You do not have to spend money to learn about other parts of the world, you can do so by sitting in a choir and relaxing. These students from across the seas do the rest: they show movies, slides, talk about their native country, dance, sing and play the musical instruments they brought from home. Then, one evening, the American students gave a program, thus acquainting the international students with the many phases of life in the United States.

GERMAN CLUB

Although members of the German Club speak English, even during their meetings, their main objective is a fluent use of the language. One way in which this is done is through the help of students from German-speaking areas in Europe. Another is the playing of records, movies, etc. A look at their faces will tell you it's fun.

There are a great many words as to the purpose of Kappa Delta Pi, but in a capsule it is an education honorary which encourages high standards in its field. One way in which they do this is by the awarding of the Mc-Cracken Scholarship to an outstanding and deserving student each year. Their informal meetings are in the form of coffee hours.

MEN'S INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The problem of getting rides and riders during vacation time is a big one and it is the MIA Student Travel Service that helps facilitate contact with one another. They are also the sponsors of the MIA movies, the proceeds of which go toward various OU funds. Meetings are often held with co-organization WIA and they both get together in sponsoring the Cindrella Boll.

WOMEN'S INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The shoes do not have to necessarily fit Cindy at the WIA Cindrella Ball; she just has to be lucky. And if she is, there are a lot of gifts woiting for her from stores in Athens. But, unlike Cindrella, she does not have to return from the ball by midnight. She has late permissian.

Although the most important, the Cindrella Ball is only one special activity in the schedule of WIA. There are a number of others—a picnic, the MIA Sweetheart Dance, parties, etc.—that provide the independent woman with recreation.

CHILDHOOD EDUCATION CLUB

Psychologists will tell you that what happens to a person during his childhood has its consequences in later life. As a result, a teacher assumes a very responsible position in the community. Members of the Childhood Education Club realize this as one of their objectives is to promote better educational and social apportunities for children everywhere.

Their preparation today takes the form of exchanging ideas and experiences and making social contacts. They meet and discuss and listen so that they may enjoy professional fellowship.

However, no organization can exist without funds and CEC listed as one of its annual activities a money making project.

This is as wise a start as any in all phases of life, including the educational.

Future Teachers of America

Future teachers or teachers of tomorrow—soy it in ony form, they are students of today who might be teaching your children in the coming years. Aport from student teaching, these teachers-to-be gain practical experience by grading papers for the south-eastern Ohio district scholarship papers. They also help sponsor the Ohio History Day.

It is usually people that make history, but here history has mode these people . . . into Phi Alpha Thetas. This is a national history honorary which recognizes outstanding history majors. In turn, they recognize history as a dynamic force and discuss the post as a perspective and insight into what is happening today.

CLASS OFFICERS

In June and on the eve of graduation, the senior class officers arrange a program for seniors and their guests. These officers were elected together with others soon after the school year began. Speeches were mode, the publicity campaigns were vigorous and even the press raved. Then the officers were elected . . . and the tumult died down.

The class officers this year sponsored the President's Ball, a combination donce, fancy dress party and music fest.

THE DIVERSIFIED GREEKS

Athens, Greece and Athens, Ohio—there is a similarity, only the times have changed. There are the streets with millings and hurrying. There is the shouting and mumblings at intersections of commerce and thought and art. And there are the Greeks. Only, here the Greeks are different.

The Greeks here belong to the fraternal orders with what seems to be the exotic and mystic. The mysteries that surround the fraternities are provided by the flaming torches and the initiation rites. Everything else is the usual. They live in homes. Everyone is everyone else's brother... or sister.

Their aim is high. Scholorship, brotherhood, recreation, future bonds. They seek to achieve their aims in different ways, individually and collectively.

But they have their fun, too, when they forgot the outside world and create one of their own during their many colorful parties. They dress in foncy clothes and spend a playful evening, portroying the characters they represent.

In a word, their main objective is happiness while they are here and a seeking for the life they are to lead when they go out into their respective worlds.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The torch is lit, the chariots roll and there is gaiety in the air. It is Greek Week, sponsored by the Interfraternity Council. And at the end of the week is the IFC-Pan Hel dance.

There is the other side of IFC that the campus sees very little of, but hears a lot about; the handling of fraternity affairs. Rushing, conduct, etc. IFC acts as the coordinating group.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan Hellenic Council functions as a balance to maintain a high plane in fraternity life and interfraternity relationships. Their job is to cooperate with college officials in their effort to maintain high social and scholarship standards.

Philanthrophy as well as social life are a part of their work. This year they sponsored jointly with I.F.C., a concert featuring Woody Herman for the Sesquicentennial scholarship fund. The adoption and care of a Korean child was only a small part of their work

These girls have progressed. Within the span of three years, they formed a new organization, Alpha Theta, succeeded in making it a full fledged sorority and are now affiliated with a national fraternal order, Kappa Delta. In doing so, they praved the falseness of superstition; the original number of members was 13.

One factor in their favor was that the purpose of both the local chapter and the national organization coincided. They are dedicated to friendship, scholarship and social interests.

Philanthropy is ane of their purposes and the lacal girls find it a pleasure to help girl orphans from the Children's Home. Among their activities was included a Founder's Day Banquet, a Winter Formal and a Mother's Day Banquet.

Did you see a little lamb heading for Court Street early in the fall? Well, it was like this: the Phi Mus decided to use one for their rushing party and while the girls were putting talcum powder on it, it got away. Thus began another year for the Phi Mus, a year which included a Christmas party with alumnae, a baseball game with the Phi Kappa Epsilon fraternity, formals and a Mother's Pin Ceremany at which pins were presented to the mothers.

Foll and spring formals, parties, exchange dinners, and teas make up the social life of the chapter.

Pi Phis can also claim the distinction of being the oldest national sorority on campus.

Notorious for their gombling activities and noted for their acts of charity, the Phi Kaps represent a curious mixture of good and evil! To represent the former, the annual Monte Carlo Porty, where patrons won prizes as valuable as automobiles, was held in the house, decorated like a real casino. Fortunately, the gambling was done with fake money!

But the acts of charity were real. For example, in December a neighborhood Christmas party for 75 children was held and a bonofide Sonta Claus distributed gifts to all.

Winter and Spring formals and many parties added spice to the year's schedule.

This past year was a manumental one for Phi Sigmo Delta, far it was this year that the chapter home at 95 University Terroce was purchased, solidifying the permanence of the froternity.

Combining a full social schedule with an active participation in college events, the members annually enjoy the Hamecoming Butcher Dinner, a Christmas party for needy children, and a Beloted New Year's Eve party from 1925, camplete with Flappers and the Charleston. Also natable were the Maulin Rouge party and the Sweetheart Formal.

"Winter Wonderland" came into reality at the Berry Hotel in December when Phi Kappa Alpha presented its annual winter formal.

Among the other events scheduled for the PiKA social calendor were the Dream Girl Formal in the spring and the annual Founder's Day Banquet.

The weekend of May 14 was an important one for the local chapter when chapters from Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan, and Indiano met on the OU campus for a combination All Ohio-District convention.

Looking more like a calonial Georgian's home than home for OU collegiates, the SAE house at 57 East State is a location for many interesting social events each year.

Among these is the annual Purple Parrot Formal in the spring and the Initiatian Banquet held each Octaber and February.

Another annual social event is the interformal which is held in canjunction with the Pi Phis.

Three hundred paunds of confetti as well as countless favors and decorations made the annual Sig Carnival a real "Jungle Jump" this year, with Chuz Alfred's combo praviding the proper atmosphere. Besides this undertaking, other social events an the Sig schedule were Triad Formal, "On the Waterfrant" party, and Sweetheart Formal, when a sweetheart for the chapter was chosen from pinned girls.

It was not all play but no work for the Sigs. Not only did they capture intramural faatball and basketball championships, but they earned $165 for CARE through their annual Work Day in December.

Sigma Nu might not have wan any championships in intramural sports, but the fraternity was runner-up in four different contests: football, basketball, golf, and bawling!

Among the social highlights of the year was the White Rose Formal, held at the Center.

Every year for the advancement of the fraternity and the betterment of the community, the Sigma Nu's have a Wark Week, which is conducted by actives and pleages.

High scholarship is stressed in the local chapter of TKE, but those who study need lots of relaxation . . . and they get it!

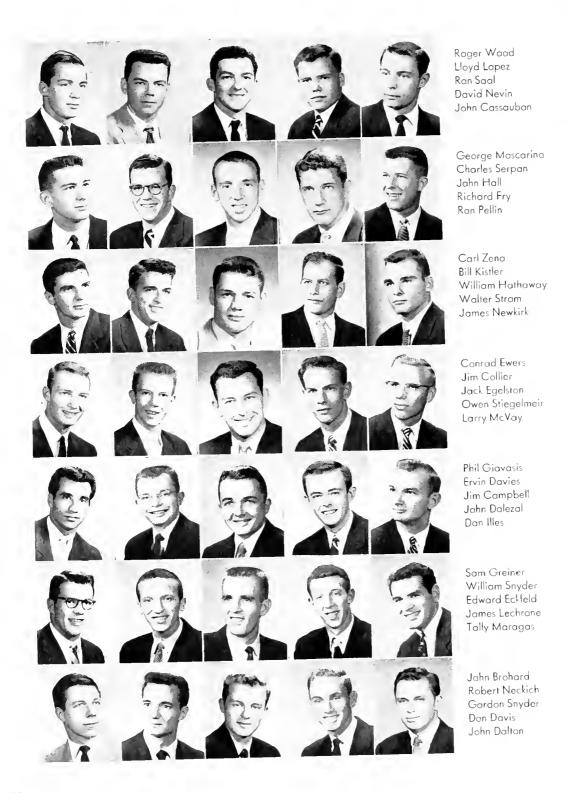

Among the events sponsored by Tekes each year are the Titanic Party and the TKEoquakade, women's swim meet.

In the 1955 schedule was the Skoiaon Porty, which featured an African theme.

Last spring the TKEs captured the intramural softboll title.

It's Mardi Gras time in Athens!

Taking as their theme the annual New Orleans gala affair, the Theta Chis throw a party every February, with a whole weekend devoted to the celebration, complete with everything from a jazz session to a riotiaus party at the Armory.

Most important of the fraternity's activities is the sponsorship of the annual Pawder Bowl, football game between Alpha Xi and Pi Phi sororities, whose proceeds go to the cancer fund.

Highlights on the social calendar were the winter and spring formals, the Prison Party, and the Hawaiian Party.

Theta Chi's local chapter, Alpha Tau, observed its thirtieth anniversary on May 9.

Then, gradually, the proofs begin coming in from the printers. The yearbook is toking shape and all the work that went into it assumes a tangible form. Evenutally—and it seems a long time after the work was begun—the finished product is delivered to the offices. The 1955 Athena. This is it, and it's yours.

It is when the lights stay on all night and the aspirin, coffee and cigarette consumption runs high that the copy is being written. Sometimes the copy is that which describes the many phoses of the yearbook and sometimes it is of advertising. Both ended up on the same desk, but eventually everything turned out fine.

An f.2 long focus, a wide angle. Actinic and non-actinic light. Soup and hypo. Low key and high key (the latter more likely being the nerves). All this sounds like some strange formula. It has been used often by the photographers. But there is more to it than just this. Besides other such formulas, there is feeling and creativity. And ultimately, you have the photographs that make up this yearbook.

The shaoting of the pictures itself requires great skill. An equal amount of ability is required in the dorkroom, where the production of the photographs is finalized.

It takes a great team to achieve a pictorial record of a phase in people's lives. And this that great team.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The editors of the 1955 Athena extend their groteful appreciation to their advisors, A. T. Turnbull, Clarence White, and Charles Smith, to their staffs, to the Ohia University Post, and to the Ohia University administration, faculty, staff and students, for their generous assistance in the production of this yearbook.

And, in addition to the persons pictured on the Athena staffs, the editors are grateful to Joyce Heller, Penny Harness and Libbie Cline, for copy work, and to Jean Hartman, Marlene Sabec, Phyllis Sielatycki, Martha Richards, Kay Mercer, Peggy Beresford and Martha Wamsley, for secretarial work.
